GINA and ELENA

Now They're Australians

GINA and ELENA, the two surviving Faella quads, were christened yesterday at the church of St. Thomas the Apostle, Blackburn.

Now four months old, the quads are held by their godmothers — Gina, on the left, in the arms of Mrs F. Cincotta, of East Brighton, and Elena by Mrs Lena Gustin, of Bankstown, Sydney.

Mr and Mrs Michele Faella proudly watch from behind.

Mrs Gustin flew from Sydney yesterday to attend the christening, performed by the Rev. Father Paul Ryan.

The Faellas' small home in Esdale-st., Blackburn, was crowded with friends and relatives at the christening party.

MR. AND MRS. MICHELE FAELLA, parents of the quads born at Box Hill 13 months ago, were naturalised at Nunawading town hall last night. Here, Mr. Faella shows his naturalisation certificate to the surviving quads, Elena and Gina, watched by Mrs. Emma Faella and seven-year-old son, Aldo. The Faellas migrated from Italy seven years ago. They are expecting another baby in September.
