

1967 - GIUSEPPE SARAGAT, the first Italian Head of State to visit Australia. Leading the press corps was Prof. RENATO VENTURINI. The press made use of radio station 2CH and the Gustin's house as their foreign service headquarters from which the visits' highlights were broadcast.

Lena and Dino had already transmitted programmes from the ship ACHILLE LAURO and from the SYDNEY TOWN HALL for Italians in Australia.

(Photo) Lena on the Achille Lauro with Italian President GIUSEPPE SARAGAT and Prof. RENATO VENTURINI (partly hidden) head of the RAI radio services.

