

Soccer jerseys as gift from renowned club

The night of Saturday, April 15 was a gay and proud occasion for the exuberant players of Liverpool Inter Soccer Club which has a big following among the local Italian community.

At a club ball held in the Liverpool Town Hall the players received jerseys from one of the worlds best and most famous football clubs—the Milan Inter-club of Italy, the European and current Italian champions.

The Milan club donated the blue and black jerseys to the Liverpool club, and the presentation was made by the Consul-General for Italy (Dr. G. Carnovali).

Support urged

The guests were warmly welcomed by the club President (Mr. Dino Gustin) who referred to the majority of his club members and supporters as "Italians, but also good Australians".

Ald. Smith told the gathering of some 400 people that the Liverpool Inter Club had done remarkably well since its formation only about 18 months ago.

It had started in the junior division and was now in the Second Division of the Federation competition in Sydney.

Ald. Smith said the club deserved the full support of Liverpool people and said he hoped to see it eventually become a First Division club.

He promised the full support of the Council in developing JaJrdine Park as the club ground.

Mr. Whittam described soccer as the most international of all football codes, and predicted that it would eventually become the dominant code in Australia.

During the evening, Miss Mimma Rizzo, of Leichhardt, was presented with her prize on her selection as "Miss Liverpool Inter Soccer Club of 1967".

The ball was capably organised by club secretary, Mr. Mario Mura.

Mr. Mura thanked Mr. Andy Amalfi for his donation of $40 to the club; Louie's Motors, of Lanevale, for the donation of a $100 cup, and Brescia Furniture, of Cabramatta, for donation of a vacuum cleaner which raised $80 in a competition.

The guests danced to some lively music by the Les Amigos orchestra and were served a delightful supper — including such traditional Italian food as pizza pie, salami and mortadella.
